Faith & Poverty

A Solidarity Response

This second eight-session program of the JustFaith series introduces participants to common hurdles that people experiencing poverty often face. Participants emerge from this program better equipped to help alleviate poverty in their communities, as well as stand in solidarity with those experiencing poverty.

Program Outline

Session 1: Dignity of Work and Rights of Workers

Participants review group guidelines for holy conversations. They then learn about and discuss the biblical and theological basis for advocating for the rights of workers.

Session 2: The Cost to Live

The group explores the cost of living in their communities, as compared to the standard income of low-wage workers. Participants then discern ways to advocate for living wages and stand in solidarity with workers in poverty.

Session 3: The Social Safety Net

Participants learn about public benefits. Who is eligible? How much do they receive? What is it like to live on public benefits?

Session 4: The Cliff Effect

The group learns about a common obstacle that traps people in the “welfare system,” keeping them from better wages and a better quality of life. Participants then explore ways they work alongside those experiencing poverty to eliminate this barrier to financial health.

Session 5: Poverty and Health

After hearing from a guest speaker from the local community, participants learn about the detrimental effects of poverty on health. The group then brainstorms ways to ensure access to physical, emotional, and spiritual care for all people.

Session 6: Trauma and Addiction

Participants learn about a common correlation between trauma, addiction, and poverty. They then envision ways to improve access to mental health care for those experiencing poverty, as well as support those in recovery.

Session 7: Housing

The group explores systemic barriers that keep people from accessing affordable housing and envisions ways in which they can help reduce homelessness in their own communities.

Session 8: Grassroots Organizing 101

The group learns how to mobilize others to create sustainable change in their local communities.

“The JustFaith series provided a sort of epiphany to my role in the world. I realized that I am called to make the most of everything God has given me in order to be better equipped to address the needs of the world. I felt a permission to simply be and to serve. I don’t have to figure it out; I just have to be present and answer whatever need God puts in front of me.”
