

“JustFaith is the single most important decision I ever made. The eight months of JustFaith were a birthing process, and resulted in a new me.”

2012 JustFaith program participant

I’m not sure if you know this, but someone you’ve never met made the decision to change your life.

You see, it’s the JustFaith graduates who came before you who made your JustFaith experience possible. They’ve sustained this program for more than 10 years and in nearly 2,000 different parishes.

Now that you’re a part of the JustFaith graduate community, I have a simple but important question for you: Will you make the decision to change someone else’s life?

You have the opportunity to make all of this possible again by sharing your JustFaith witness and extending an invitation into this compassionate journey.

Just like someone else did for you.

Will you make it possible for someone like you to do JustFaith? Without your invitation to a friend, we simply won’t be able to offer JustFaith to all the people who want—and need—to experience it.

It’s our mission to create programs and resources—like JustFaith—that sustain people in their compassionate commitment to build a more just and peaceful world.

But we just can’t do this work without you. And to be perfectly honest...we wouldn’t have it any other way!

With gratitude for each of you,

Jack Jezreel

Founder and President

P.S. We’d love to share your experience with your fellow graduates. Send us a private message addressed to other grads through Facebook at www.facebook.com/JustFaithMinistries. We’ll share it with them in an upcoming email or newsletter. And “fan” us if you’d like to stay in touch!
